1. Resistance groups as well as local peasants are reported to be a disturbing interference in the Yugoslavs' first attempt to introduce collective enterprises in the disposal of the wheat crop in Croatia. The opposition to this collective plan continues despite the arrest of prominent farmers who have failed to meet the quota set by the Collective Commissions. The opposition to this collectivization has been so bitter that several officials have been murdered, among them the Croatian Grain Collection Chief Knap.
2. The food magazines of the Yugoslav Army are reported to have a reserve supply for one year. (see [redacted] Military Information, para. 1, 31 January 1947.)
